

Managing Romantic Interests

scenario card:

L3

You and a co-worker eat lunch together every day. You have worked together for two months. You emailed this person to ask if they wanted to hang out outside of work. They have not responded.

What should you do?

Managing Romantic Interests

scenario card:

L3

A co-worker has told you that she likes art and history. You asked her if she would like to go with you to the museum in a few weeks. She said thanks, but turned down the offer.

What should you do?

Managing Romantic Interests

scenario card:

L3

You are interested in someone (at work or school). You have asked them to hang out twice, but they have had other plans both times. They have never asked you to get together outside of work.

What should you do?

Managing Romantic Interests

scenario card:

L3

You have decided to invite a co-worker to a concert. You both have talked about your favorite musical genre: _____. Your favorite band is playing a show next Friday at 8pm. You will see your co-worker today at lunch.

What should you do?

Managing Romantic Interests

scenario card:

L3

You have a huge crush on someone (at work or school). You have talked to this person a few times, but you are not sure if they are interested in you. You "friended" this person on Facebook, but they have not responded to your friend request.

Should you say something to them? Should you send them a message?

Managing Romantic Interests

scenario card:

L3

You have a huge crush on someone (at work or school). You have talked to this person and are Facebook "friends," but you are not sure if they are interested in you. You have written on their Facebook wall twice, and they have not sent any comments or "likes" back to you.

Should you say something to them? Should you send them a message?

Managing Romantic Interests

scenario card:

L3

You have been working on a project with a classmate/co-worker. You want to ask this person to go to see _____ (a movie you know they would like).

Where will you ask and what will you say?

Managing Romantic Interests

scenario card:

L3

There is a person your age who volunteers at the same place as you two afternoons a month. From talking with this person on break, you know that they like music and there is a band playing next Friday night. You work together this Tuesday. Where will you talk to this person about going and what will you say?

Managing Romantic Interests

scenario card:

L3

There is a person at work who you think is very attractive. When there are work meetings, you want to sit near that person so that you can look at them or possibly talk to them. At the meeting today, that person changed seats after you sat near them. What should you do?

Managing Romantic Interests

scenario card:

L3

A co-worker tries to talk to you frequently during breaks and lunch but you prefer to not socialize when you are in the work environment.

What do you do?
