

Everyone has different ideas and opinions. Sometimes, my co-workers will agree with my ideas, and sometimes they might not. I am not always right, and my co-workers are not always right. Disagreement is OK.

If someone disagrees with me, I should take a deep breath and use calm words and gestures. I can take a break away if I need to.