

Playing the Waiting Game scenarios:

L3

You have called about the job you applied for and the employer tells you they have not made a decision yet. (It has been 5 days and they had originally said it would be 3).

How do you respond?

Playing the Waiting Game scenarios:

L3

After calling the company, the employer says, 'We have already filled the position.'

What do you do first? What do you say?

After this phone call, what would be your next step?

Playing the Waiting Game scenarios:

L3

After 7 days, you call and ask if a hiring decision has been made. They say "Not yet."

What do you say?

What do you do?

Playing the Waiting Game scenarios:

L3

After 7 days, you call and ask if a hiring decision has been made. They say "No, we will call if we are able to offer you the position."

What do you say?

After the phone call, what will you plan to do?

Playing the Waiting Game scenarios:

L3

You call an employer and ask if a hiring decision has been made. They say "You need to contact the human resources department to find out this information."

What do you say?

What do you do?

Playing the Waiting Game scenarios:

L3

After 7 days, you call and ask if a hiring decision has been made. They say "Not yet, we should make this decision by the end of the week."

What do you say?

After the phone call, what will you plan to do?