

When a customer is upset, I will take a deep breath and say, "Let's go find the manager.
I think she can help you."

When we find the manager, I can go back to my work. I did a good job!